- Like a fluttering swallow or a darting sparrow, an undeserved curse does not come to rest.----- ()
- Sending a message by the hands of a fool is like cutting off one's hands or drinking poison.----- ()

3. Like tying a stone in a sling is the giving of honour to a retard.
----- ()
4. A sluggard says, 'There's a lion in the road, a lion roaming the streets!'
----- ()
5. Like one who grabs a stray animal by the ears is someone who rushes into a quarrel not their own.----- ()
6. Without wood a fire goes out; with a gossip a quarrel dies down.
----- ()
7. The words of a gossip are like choice meals; they go down to the inmost parts.----- ()
8. Though their speech is charming, do believe them, for seven abominations fill their hearts.----- ()
9. Whoever digs a pit will not fall into it; if someone rolls a stone, it will roll back on them.----- ()
10. Do boast about tomorrow, for you do not know what a day may bring.----- ()

Section C: Match the pairs. (Total 30%, 3 marks for each question)

1. Stone is heavy and sand a burden,		hold it in pledge if it is done for an outsider.
2. Wounds from a friend can be trusted,		and are unaware that poverty awaits them.
3. Take the garment of one who puts up security for a stranger;		but a fool's provocation is heavier than both.
4. As iron sharpens iron,		and the grass from the hills is gathered in,
5. When the hay is removed and new growth appears		but an enemy multiplies kisses.
6. When a country is rebellious, it has many rulers,		but when the wicked rise to power, people go into hiding.
7. A discerning son heeds instruction,		but a ruler with discernment and knowledge maintains order.
8. When the righteous triumph, there is great elation;		so one person sharpens another.
9. The stingy are eager to get rich		but when the wicked perish, the righteous thrive.
10. When the wicked rise to power, people go into hiding;		but a companion of gluttons disgraces his father.
